

We carry your bill across and bring the money back.

Brand and product UI guidelines for the Ferry mobile app: superbill capture and fully automated out-of-network reimbursement for patients.

A small, friendly boat.

Patients pay out of pocket, snap the superbill, and Ferry does the rest: files the out-of-network claim, tracks it, and says when the money lands. The patient never fills in a form, never learns a code, never logs into a payer portal. Every screen, string and animation should feel like the boat: warm, unhurried, competent, on your side.

Working name

Ferry

Claims are called trips in the product.

Tone

Warm & playful

Peach, sea-green and navy. Pills and big rounded cards.

The one thing to remember

Never assign homework.

If a sentence ends in an instruction, rewrite it.

02 • Voice

Talk like a helpful friend.

First person plural, short words, contractions. "We've got it" beats "Your submission has been received."

Celebrate the money, not the app.

The good news is theirs. Ferry is just the boat. Dollar amounts lead every sentence they appear in.

Never assign homework.

When input is truly needed, ask for one thing, say why in a few words, and say what happens after.

Sounds like

Snapped it. We'll take it from here.
$184.20 is coming back to you.
Nothing else to do. We'll wave when it lands.

Not like

Please review your submission for accuracy.
Your claim is pending eligibility review.
Woohoo! Ferry has processed your claim!!!

House style

Sentence case everywhere. Short human dates ("Sep 12", "about 2 weeks"). No exclamation marks in system messages. No emoji. Never insurer vocabulary: member, eligible, pending review, adjudication, EOB, CPT. Never explain the plumbing (OCR, APIs, portals); describe outcomes.

The boat.

Mark, full color (default)

Reversed on navy

App icon, 1024 px

Mono, currentColor

Rules

Clearspace equals the hull's height on every side. Minimum mark size 28 px on screen. The boat never tilts, rotates, or gets a face. The wave may animate (gentle 1.8 s drift) while something is in flight. Never place the mark on sea-green.

Wordmark: Bricolage Grotesque 800, tracking -3%, sentence case. The lockup's wordmark is live text; convert to outlines for print.

Warm on the surface, cool underneath.

Warmth comes only from cream, peach and blush. Every neutral is cool: navy, slate, mist. There is no brown, rust or warm grey anywhere in the system.

Cream

#FFF6EC · app background

White

#FFFFFF · cards, nav

Peach

#F0704F · primary action, hull

Blush

#FFD9C2 · chips, borders, pending

Sea

#2EA88F · progress, money fills

Sea deep

#176D5C · money text

Mint

#E5F5F0 · success tint

Navy

#17263F · text, icons, camera bg

Navy surface

#24375A · raised on navy

Slate

#566680 · secondary text

Mist

#EEF1F6 · neutral tint

Danger

#C43D2E · errors only

Rules

Sea-green always means "good" or "money"; never decorative. Peach is for the one primary action per screen plus the boat. Always navy text on peach, never white. No gradients, no shadows: depth is white-on-cream plus radius. Dark mode is out of scope; the camera screen is the only dark surface.

Verified contrast pairs

navy / cream 12.6 · slate / cream 4.8 · sea deep / cream 5.6 · sea deep / mint 5.0 · navy / peach 4.7 · navy / blush 9.9 · white / sea 3.1 (bold 12px+ only) · cream / navy 12.0 · #C7D2E6 / navy 8.1 · #93A3BD / navy 5.2

Never slate on blush. Never white on peach.

Bricolage Grotesque over Figtree.

$184.20

$184.20 is coming back to you.

We sent your physical therapy bill across this morning. Go enjoy your day; we'll wave when it lands.

Expo: `@expo-google-fonts/bricolage-grotesque` , `@expo-google-fonts/figtree` . Fallbacks: Helvetica Neue, Arial. Inter, Roboto and system-ui are never the visible face. Dollar amounts are always display face, tabular figures, sea deep when money is coming back.

Everything is a pill or a big rounded card.

Buttons

Primary 60 tall, peach, navy text, one per screen.
Secondary 56, blush or white. Tertiary 48, text only.
Pressed: scale 0.97, 120 ms.

Status chips

Received → blush. Filed → mint with sea-deep text.
Paid → sea with white text. Needs input → blush, with a small hand icon. Every chip carries its label; color never stands alone.

Trip progress

Three 8 px pill segments, 6 px gap. Done = sea, pending = blush. A completing stage sweeps in over 400 ms.

Inputs

You paid

48 tall, cream fill, 2 px blush border, radius 16, Figtree
16/600. Label above in 13/700 slate. Focus: border navy. Error: border danger, helper in danger.

Cards & list rows

White on cream. Radius 28 (hero, detail) or 22 (rows).
Padding 22 or 16×18. No border, no shadow, no divider.

Bottom nav

64 tall white pill, three items with 20 px outline icons.
Active = blush fill, navy text. Inactive = slate. Outline icons only, 2.2 px stroke, round caps (Lucide as reference).

Layout

Phone reference 390 × 844. Padding 60 top (under the real status bar), 20 sides, 24 bottom. Section gap 20. Spacing scale 4 · 8 · 12 · 16 · 20 · 24 · 32 · 40. Minimum touch target 44. Never draw a fake status bar, keyboard or camera feed.

Strings to use verbatim.

Where	String
Home greeting	Good morning. / Good afternoon. / Good evening.
Home subline	Three bills are out on the water. (none: Nothing on the water right now.)
Hero label · subline	Coming back to you · $150.00 landed this month. The rest is on its way.
Primary CTA	Snap a superbill
Statuses	We've got it · Sent across · Landed · One quick thing
Camera title · hint	Lay it flat. · All four corners in the frame. We'll do the rest.
Camera alt	Upload a PDF
Review title · subline	Here's what we saw. · Tap anything that looks off. Otherwise, send it.
Review labels	Provider · What it was for · Visit date · You paid
Insurer line	Sending to your insurer on file
Send CTA · alt	Send it across · Retake the photo
Trip reassurance	Nothing else to do. We'll wave when it lands, probably around Oct 1.
Trip timeline	Snapped and sent · Your insurer has it · Money lands in your account
Trip actions	Back home · Snap another
Push: filed	Sent across. $184.20 should land in about 2 weeks.
Push: paid	It landed. $184.20 is in your account.
Error: blurry	That one's a little blurry. One more try?
Error: offline	No signal right now. We'll send it the moment you're back.
Empty state	Snap your first superbill and we'll take it from there.

Motion, in three moments

Tap feedback: scale 0.97 over 120 ms. Screen and sheet transitions: 260 ms, cubic-bezier(0.2, 0.8, 0.2, 1). The wave: a 1.8 s ease-in-out drift under the boat while something is in flight; the only ambient animation in the app. No confetti: "landed" is a single sea-green sweep of the progress bar plus the push copy. Respect reduced motion.

The core flow.
